steps from wrong, That Can - a - da may ev - er be The land for me,

2 Within her gates
Fair plenty waits,
A sickle in her hand,
And " room for all," resounds her call,
Through yellow Autumn land.
Till fast they come, a grateful crowd,
To sing the praises long and loud,
Of Canada, so broad and free,
The land for me!

3 The world's highway.—
This part to play,
Her future showeth plain;
The valleys reel 'neath belts of steel,
That bear her gold, her grain.
Her sons, her daughters hold her dear,
And proudly, safely, will they steer
To goal above, the land I love,
The Land for me.

4 So up! and work!
No longer shirk
A Nation's duties great!
With heart and hand together stand,
And prove our future fate.
Thro' Britain's speech and Britain's song,
To Britain may we still belong,
While true Canadians, and free
Are we, are we!
